HISTORY

The Kamat Group has the highest of reputations in the industry in India, but why settle for just that? The Kamat Group has grown steadily over the years and now proudly caters to an ever-increasing number of Indian domiciles abroad who have a ravenous and keen appetite for Indian cuisine; particularly the Udupi variety

Kamats has catered in prestigious hotels like Chandini (in Belgium); Delhi Durbar, Indian Coffee House, Kyber and Sanman (all in Dubai); The Namaskar Chain (in Sandai and Tokyo, Japan); Kamats of India (in Singapore); Shan, Diwana and The Indian Coffee House (in United Kingdom); Earthen Pot in Atlanta, Georgia, Indian Coffee House at Flushing, New York, Natraj at Jacksonite, New York and Moghul Mahal at Boston, Massachusetts. (all in the United States of America).

Starting from humble beginnings with one restaurant opposite Churchgate Station in Mumbai. Under the leadership of Dr. Vithal Kamat and his son Vikram Kamat, Kamats is today a hospitality giant. Here in India, Kamats has expanded to over 100+ units and continues to add new units each month. With over 70+ years of delightful hospitality serving hot, healthy and hygienic food, irrespective of location, time and demand. This is the power of Kamats. Customers know Kamats means Quality. And Kamats means the trust that their food will be the best vegetarian food.
